Dec 27, 2021 CDC Update of COVID-19 Guidelines

All Employees,

January 10, 2022

The CDC released updated guidelines for COVID-19 quarantine and isolation on December 27th, 2021. These updated CDC guidelines are found on the CDC's website. If you are viewing this document electronically, you can follow the link below:

After careful review, Kaiser Trentwood has decided to adopt the updated CDC guidelines immediately. Following these guidelines may result in a reduction in quarantine or isolation times depending on circumstances specific to each case. If you are currently in quarantine or isolation, please contact the Nurse Case Manager so they can help determine the appropriate steps based on your individual assessment. Please realize there are many variables that determine the appropriate length of a quarantine or isolation period. Durations may be different for different individuals depending on specific circumstances.

We understand the confusion these changes can cause, but we strive to follow the guidance provided by local, state, and national medical authorities. We encourage all employees to utilize available resources if you have questions, including the CDC or Washington Department of Health web pages. Additionally, Human Resources at Trentwood and our Nurse Case Managers can assist with questions you may have.

Sincerely,
The Trentwood Leadership Team
